Review of the Designations as Foreign Terrorist Organizations of Tehrik-e Taliban Pakistan, Hizbul Mujahideen, and Army of Islam (and Other Aliases)

Based on a review of the Administrative Records assembled pursuant to Section 219(a)(4)(C) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, amended (8 U.S.C. 1189(a)(4)(C)) (“INA”), and in consultation with the Attorney General and the Secretary of the Treasury, I conclude that the circumstances that were the bases for the designations of the aforementioned organizations as Foreign Terrorist Organizations have not changed in such a manner as to warrant revocation of the designations and that the national security of the United States does not warrant a revocation of the designations.

This determination shall be published in the Federal Register.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Article 10.12 of the USMCA establishes a mechanism for replacing judicial review of final antidumping and countervailing duty determinations involving imports from Canada, Mexico or the United States with review by independent binational panels. If requested, these panels will review final determinations to determine whether they are consistent with the antidumping or countervailing duty law of the importing country.

Annex 10–B.3 of the USMCA establishes a mechanism for the formation of an extraordinary challenge committee to review the appeal of Article 10.12 panel decisions under certain circumstances described in Article 10.12.13 of the USMCA. Article 10.13 of the USMCA establishes a mechanism for special committees to review certain procedural allegations described in Article 10.13.1 of the USMCA. Section 504 of the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement Implementation Act, Public Law 116–113, 134 Stat. 11, amended United States law to implement Chapter Ten of the USMCA. See, e.g., 19 U.S.C. 4581 et. seq.; see also 19 CFR 356.1 et seq.

The USMCA Rules of Procedure for Article 10.12, Annex 10–B.3, and Article 10.13 are intended to give effect to the provisions of Chapter Ten of the USMCA by setting forth the procedures for commencing, conducting, and completing reviews. These rules are the result of negotiations among Canada, Mexico, and the United States in compliance with the terms of the USMCA, and are derived in large part from the rules established under Chapter 19 of the North American Free Trade Agreement.
